"TIGER"

Those friendly arguments each Monday, throughout the Winter between Charlie Fahy, Tom Powell and Bill Mulligan have no relation to racing — it's all football. This stems from Charlie's inherent patriotism for his Balmain birthplace, and his pride in its Rugby League team. He was a promising player in his youth, and attained President's Cup selection, playing alongside the mighty "Chook" Fraser, a champion of that era.

Unfortunately an injury prevented continuance in the game, and who knows whether a great star was thus lost to the Rugby League firmament. This Tom and Bill will contest for certain.

PROMINENT DENTAL FIGURE ENTERTAINED

Dr. William Alstedt, of Little Rock, Arkansas, past president of the American Dental Association, which has a membership of 111,000, visited Australia during a recent tour of the Pacific. Dr. Alstedt was entertained by members Alan Grainger, Derek Freeman, Emmet McDermott, John Baird, Gordon Rowell, Bob Norton, Earle Bastian, Eric Gee and Frank Carberry, and other members of the dental profession including Terry Royse Smith and Neville Cox.

Dr. Alstedt is an outstanding celebrity of the dental world, is also president of the U.S. section of the International College of Dentistry, and he holds degrees in science and dentistry. The ICD is an organisation of highly esteemed and carefully selected dentists throughout the world.

CLUB MEMBER, GEORGE BEYNON, ELECTED TO S.T.C.

The fun and the fury of the lobbying had died down, and sportsmen gathered in the Sydney Turf Club rooms to hear the declaration of the ballot for the vacancy of the directorate.

Secretary, R. B. Boulter, announced the successful candidate — George Beynon — popular Tattersall's Club member.

There were ten starters for the honour, and, as sportsmen the world over, the unsuccessful candidates expressed their satisfaction in acclaiming the election of George Beynon.

Stan Swaine, wife and daughter, departed for all points East, West, North and South recently. The Swaines will spend a good deal of time in the U.K., where Stan will take the opportunity of visiting his home town. They will also visit Southern Europe, Scandinavia and return via the United States. It is fairly certain that our sister clubs, particularly in Honolulu and New York, will be the venue for some very happy occasions as Stan renews acquaintanceship with friends in those areas. We can expect to see his friendly face back in the Club about the middle of October. One wonders if, in the meantime, he might meet up with Alex Baz. If so, whacko!!

OUTSTANDING TV AWARD

A television commercial now showing has received the top award made by an international panel of judges. It is the first time that an Australian commercial has won this coveted honour, and it was achieved in competition with Japan, Argentina, Italy, France, Germany and Great Britain.

And the reason for our interest is that our member, Rich Hertz, is managing director of the advertising company responsible for the ad. and to whom the gold trophy, the Clio Award, was presented.

Congratulations, Rich, on your part in this international success.

40 YEARS SERVICE

Head Porter, Bob Stewart, has just notched up 40 years in the employ of the Club. Genial Bob, who is well known to many members, was presented, by fellow staff members, with a cake bearing 40 candles to mark the occasion.

EDITORIAL

We would like to thank those many members who have congratulated us on our new appointment as Editor.

We accept your kind suggestions as to possible improved presentation, and also are mindful of the occasional barb in relation to some past publications.

We feel that there is room for "new names and new faces". To succeed in this direction is a challenge to all. Each member merits a mention, but to achieve this it is necessary that we have contributors from every area in the Club.

So many younger members have joined the Club in recent years, and so little is heard from them, that a particular message is relayed to this section to commence, and regularly contribute, items of Club interest. . .

This is not the case of "a new broom" but it is a requisite to ensure that our magazine is a newsy vehicle of interest to each and every Club member.

THANKS

The editor of the Swimming World magazine, in California, USA, Mr. Albert Schoenfield, wrote to thank the Chairman, Frank Carberry, for arranging the presentation when Olympic Champion, Michael Wenden, was awarded their plaque designating him as the "World Swimmer of the Year".

Mr. Schoenfield stated that "these awards are most coveted by athletes, and the fact that you permitted this to be awarded at your Club made it have additional value."

AROUND THE CLUB

Ken Gayfer, holidaying at Port Macquarie during June and July, will be a near neighbour to Committeeman Jack O'Neill.

By the way, we are very pleased to advise that Jack is up and about, after a nasty spin with an eye injury. We are glad to see you back in the Club, Jack.

Wally Hutchinson is visiting son, Pat, and his four grandchildren at Grafton.

Jim Wood is out of the Mater Hospital and convalescing, much to the relief of Ray Davis.

Bill Hannan busy "socking 'em" in a handball game. His father, the late Tom Hannan, owned Vodka, the first winner of the Adrian Knox Stakes, in 1922, and to show it was no fluke he followed it up the next year with winner, All Wheat.

MISSING APOSTROPHE

Sometimes an apostrophe is missed unwittingly, but in the case of Frank Darcy, president of Western Districts Racing Association, it is purposely omitted from his surname. Asked by Vin Barrett, in a group of friends, the reason why, Frank said his antecedents had dispensed with it, and there was nothing he could do about it. "It would be the only thing you ever gave away for nothing," said Vin, with a twinkle in his eye, and Frank joined in the hearty laughter with Leo O'Sullivan and Bill Hannan.

WORTHY CAUSE

Club members and good friends gathered at Tom Clune's home for a convivial evening recently, and the worthy purpose of contributing assistance to the Sacred Heart Missionary at Hohola, Port Moresby, New Guinea. A substantial sum was raised, and given to Rev. Fr. Arthur Clune, brother of Tom, who is currently stationed at Hohola.

SUCH IS FAME

Not so long ago a redoubtable leader of the ring was Ken Ranger. He has continued his racing acquaintance both as owner and punter. Judge his surprise as he placed his bet and was asked by one of Randwick's well-known rails men "And what is your name, Sir?"

ALOHA

Our reciprocal club in Honolulu, the Outrigger Canoe Club, sends greetings, and advises that its facilities will be open to reciprocal clubs on week days only during the period 1st June to 31st August, 1969.

ANZAC DAY COMPLIMENT

Maurice Sussman, member since 1938, writes that "Last Anzac Day Tattersall's Club might well have been orbiting the moon, such were the heights reached by the compliments paid to the Club secretary and staff, for their most efficient service and lavish supply of the good things that had the magic of appearing and disappearing on and from the tables on the First Floor.

"The 'Old Timers' of the 3rd Field Artillery Brigade, 1st A.I.F., have asked me to convey their gratitude on the outstanding contribution to the annual Anzac Day 'get-together' in the Club."

We thank you for your kind words, Maurice, and assure you that we consider this was the least we could do for some of the very brave men who fought for our country.

GOOD REASONS

Dr. Cyril Cummins, Director General of Public Health, and his petite wife, Eileen, had good reasons for happy celebrations. Their only daughter, Jennifer, had just married, whilst son, Adrian, was a recent recipient of a Commonwealth scholarship to St. Joseph's, Hunters Hill.

BRIGADIER HINTON PASSES ON

We are sorry to advise the death of Brigadier Fred Hinton, OBE, MC, ED, who died in Southampton, England on 9th May last.

He was the original Commander of the 1st Armoured Brigade in the 1st Australian Armoured Division, A.I.F., and was the Federal patron, and past Federal president, of the Royal Australian Armoured Corps Association.

When he joined the Club in 1957 he was Hon. Vice Consul for Haiti, as well as director of his own company.

He was well known to many members of this Club, and will be sadly missed.

SMALL WORLD

The sort of thing you read about. Angus Foster and his wife were taking a tour of Athens on their world trip, and when they got on the bus who should they be seated alongside, but Stewart Adams and his wife. Angus and Stewart had no idea the other was on tour, which goes to prove so many things.

Booking arrangements for bedrooms

Since our residential section has been completed it has proved to be most popular with members, both local and out-of-town, and a steady flow of members is always seeking accommodation. However, the increased facilities now available provide for greater numbers than before and, for the present at least, it is only on the rarest occasions that the Club is in a position where it cannot take a booking. For the most part accommodation is always available and members are urged to use the Club for residential purposes whenever the occasion arises.

The bedrooms leave nothing to be desired in first class accommodation. Furnishings are tasteful and relaxing, as the photograph of a typical room clearly shows. Most bedrooms have their own bathroom and toilet facilities. The rooms where this is not the case are situated adjacent to the general bathrooms for maximum convenience to the occupants.

Members who have stayed in the Club are unanimous in their opinion that our accommodation compares more than favourably with Sydney's first class hotels. The tariff, however, is quite modest for this standard of accommodation and is as follows:

Bedroom with bathroom, $8.00 per day.

Bedroom without bathroom, $6.00 per day.

This tariff includes several extras which are not normally available elsewhere.

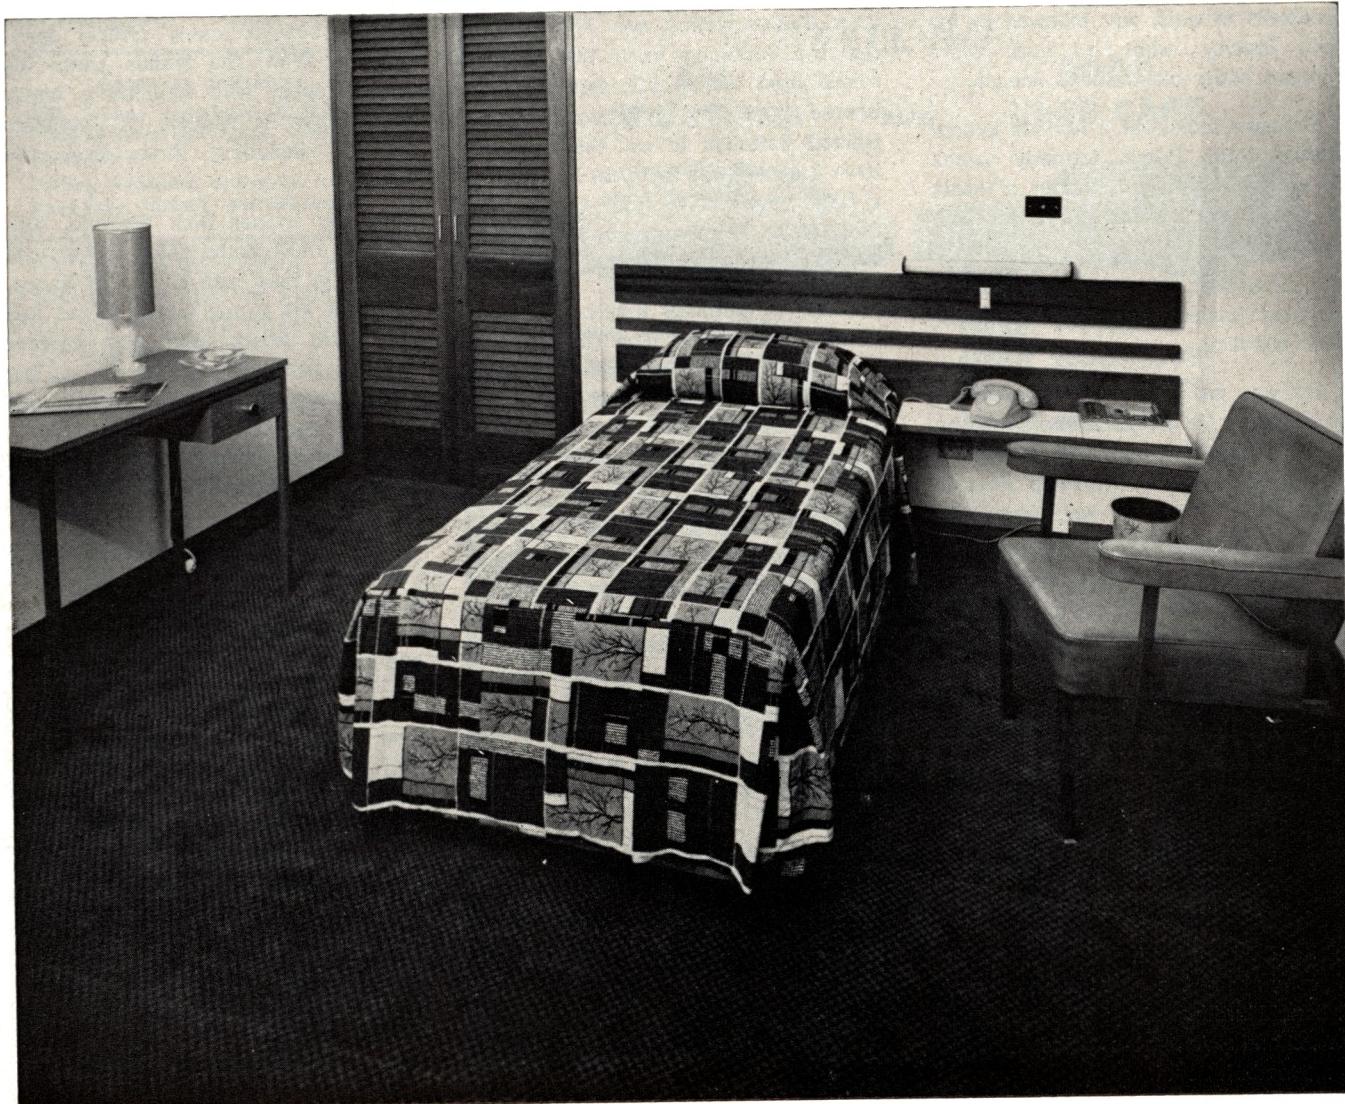

The swimming pool on the third floor is open to residents, who like an early morning swim, up to 9 a.m. and is free. Also provided at no cost are morning tea, newspapers and breakfast.

So if members need accommodation in Sydney it is hard to find better or more economical residence than the Club.

GREAT AUSTRALIAN TRAINERS IN ENGLAND

(By C. J. Graves)

With an unmatched international reputation as a jockey and four English premierships, Scobie Breasley in March took up his career as a trainer, and if he succeeds in this new sphere he will not be the first Australian to become a big name on the English Turf.

Before him went J. E. Brewer, a fearless and classic rider over jumps who won six Grand Nationals over hurdles and steeplechase fences in Victoria.

Dick Wootton, who became a prominent figure on English racecourses with hundreds of wins, was followed by his son, Stanley, who had even more winners under his trainer's licence.

Breasley took over a famous Epsom stable, South Hatch, formerly owned by Walter Nightingall, trainer of hosts of classic winners for affluent aristocracy.

J. E. Brewer achieved records in the jumping business which have never been equalled.

He was an amateur rider with the appendage "Mr." J. E. Brewer when he won the 1891 Australian Grand National Hurdle at Caulfield on Busaco. Friends induced him to switch to professional riding in order that they could get his services on the jumpers they owned, and when he won the 1892 Australian Grand National on Tim Swiveller the "Mr." had gone.

As professionals he and Jim Scobie had many thrilling battles over hurdles and fences. Jim was to become Australia's leading trainer with four Melbourne Cup successes. J. E. Brewer was the owner, trainer and rider of his own 1894 Grand National Hurdle winner, Emmalea, at Flemington.

In 1895 he owned, trained and rode Rosestem in the Australian Grand National Hurdle, and in 1898 he owned, trained and rode Pat to win the Flemington Grand National.

In Brewer's day the steeplechase courses were tough, particularly Flemington, with fences nearly five feet high, a stone wall called The Cathedral, and a grandstand treble so closely spaced that only champions could jump, regain balance to rise to the second, and then to a third. One huge obstacle was rightly placed at a spot called The Abattoirs. Just across the road was Melbourne's sheep and cattle slaughterhouse. And this was a real slaughterhouse for horse and jockey.

However, Jack Brewer survived to become a successful Australian trainer of flat-race as well as jumping winners.

A miracle Melbourne Cup match between full blood brothers in 1897 gave Gaulus victory over The Graftor, but the following year The Graftor, raised from 7.7 to 9.2, won his Melbourne Cup. That year Jack Brewer trained Battalion to win the Williams-town Cup, and the fact that he induced a cotton millionaire from England, J. Gay Clarke, to plunge on this victory changed him from an Australian trainer.

From the winnings they bought Melbourne Cup winner, The Graftor, and Gay Clarke planned an English venture with this champion stayer and its trainer J. E. Brewer.

So off they went, and The Graftor, with a long planned and skilfully organised preparation, won England's chief betting race, (next to the Derby), the 1900 City and Suburban Handicap.

The cotton millionaire, Gay Clarke, was credited with a million dollar betting win, and of course J. E. Brewer garnered a full share of this for his perspicacity in a strange land with conditions differing so diversely from Australia.

But Brewer didn't like England's cold conditions. Bred on his father's grazing property in the bush he longed to return to Australia's sunshine, and soon he did.

He refrained from taking up training again and settled in Melbourne as an owner.

He was one of the first ex-trainers to become a member of the conservative Victoria Racing Club.

He named one of his horses The Cad after somebody he considered had served him badly. This reached the ears of the chairman of the V. R. C. Committee, and with force brought to bear, the name of the horse became The Gay Mutineer. However he didn't turn out well enough to justify all the sweat over his naming.

J. E. Brewer's recommended purchase of English bloodstock by an Australian breeder, E. E. D. Clarke, of Melton stud just out of Melbourne, had a profound effect on breeding annals of the time. They were a stallion, The Welkin, sire of many classic sprint winners. With The Welkin came the mare, Teppo, who founded a family famous for its winners of Australian classics, including three Melbourne Cups.

Sydney trainer Dick Wootton, who won the 1902 Metropolitan and a small fortune in bets with Queen of Sheba, uprooted his young family to set foot for South Africa, and won another fortune with that mare in a big betting race, the Johannesburg Handicap. He was able to get cricket score odds because his son, Frank Wootton, an unknown apprentice, was the jockey.

Dick moved on to England within the year, and Frank became a furore among English jockeys, winning the Premiership four years in succession, as an apprentice.

Dick Wootton returned to Australia after World War II to invest his money in a grazing property, suburban hotels and a picture theatre. He had a nose for money as an incident in our association showed. He gave me a lift to town one morning after track work and said he was on his way to invest £5000 in a purchase of gin. The customs duty was about to rise. A rise of 5/- took place and its resale in his pubs returned a very handsome profit.

Dick died a very rich man.

GOLF CLUB NOTES

Pennant Hills Golf Club, dressed to perfection on a fine autumn day, drew 51 keen enthusiasts, including 16 visitors. Lashings of food and good cheer, and the stage was set on Tuesday, 6th May, for John Barras to lead the field with 35 stableford points. With a handicap of 2/2, and on his maiden appearance as a club member, this was not a bad effort.

The Visitor's trophy for the day went to J. Todman on a countback from A. Town and J. Lawler, whilst P. Tresidder and J. Mison, with 44 points, streaked away in the Four-Ball event.

Worthy of mention was the 37 individual points by J. Mison, which would have taken the visitor's trophy but for him assisting Phil Tresidder in winning the Four-Ball event.

SPORTSMEN'S APPEAL TROPHIES FOR INTER-UNIT COMPETITION FOR AUSTRALIAN ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE IN VIETNAM

These beautiful swimming trophies, splendid examples of the work of Australian craftsmen, are for competition amongst the Australian forces in Vietnam. The trophy on the top was subscribed for by sportsmen whilst that on the right was donated by Angus & Coote, well known Sydney jewellers. (Both works were devised and executed by Angus & Coote).

Sportsmen throughout New South Wales contributed $75,000 towards the construction of the Harold Holt Memorial Pool, at the Recreation Centre, Vung Tau, Vietnam.

Tattersall's Club members can be particularly proud in that fellow members, Brian Crowley and John Armstrong, were co-chairman of the Sportsmen's Appeal, and the vigorous, wholehearted enthusiasm of Bill Kirwan and Bill Hannan, together with active support by members in general, ensured the success of the project.

One aspect was the disclosure by a senior official of the three serving forces on last Anzac Day that already 400 serving personnel had been early rehabilitated through the facilities of the Memorial Pool.

ANOTHER TIE FOR THE APRIL-MAY POINT SCORE

Leigh Bowes, who has been in the news lately by winning second prize in a recent lottery, dead heats for first place with Derek Jackson in the April/May Point Score with a total of 27 points each. David Dind is six points astern in third place, and a half point away follows Max Sernack with Sid Kay and Jimmy Comans level on 20 points.

Arthur O'Connor still leads in the "Native Son" Trophy by nine points over Charles Coppa, while "Slap-sie" Max Sernack is seven points away in third place. Smiling John Connery is one and a half points behind and the indomitable good fellow, Norm Rogers, is six points further away.

With six more events to be swum the competition is at a very interesting stage. Arthur O'Connor has been a rather worried man during the last few weeks, as he has had his handicap docked a second and he will have to be on his mettle to keep his lead for the coveted trophy.

Performances over the last month have been excellent, fastest winning times recorded being N. Rogers 19.8, 20.2 and 20 secs., B. Mortensen 19.9 and 20.5, P. Wakefield 20.2, P. King 20.3, 20.4, and 21.2, W. Henneberry 20.8 and W. Richards 21.1.

Amongst those being reduced a second are F. L. Bowes, J. Connery, D. Jackson, B. Mortensen, A. O'Connor, A. Powles, N. Rogers and B. Upcroft.

Nice to see Adrian Powles in the pool again. He recorded a gallant victory in the 80 yards brace relay, partnered by Bill Richards, breaking their handicap by 2.1 secs., and then clinched a victory in the next relay with the assistance of Bruce Cox. Keep up the good work, Adrian.

For consistency this season the names of Norm Rogers, on a 20 seconds handicap, Arthur O'Connor and Max Sernack on 26 seconds, Charles Coppa on 29 seconds, and John Connery on 33 secs, must be noted. It is no wonder they are on top for the season's trophy.

Bill Henneberry must have been hard of hearing on Tuesday. He was to leave the board at six, but waited until the call of seven. Just as well, Bill, as the time recorded was 20.8 secs. which could have cost you a second off your handicap.

It will be some time before we see popular member, Sid Kay, dashing through the water as he and Mrs. Kay left recently for a world tour. The boys on the Third Floor wish them "Bon Voyage" and a safe return. We look forward to many tales of enjoyable experiences.

For the information of members, the Club Championship heats (for trophy donated by Life and Committee member, Mr. A. G. Collins), will be held on Tuesday, 8th July, and the finals on Thursday, 10th July. That's giving members plenty of notice to put in hard training. The present holder of the title is ex world champion, John Devitt.

Our popular Hon. Secretary, Jack Dexter, sends his best wishes, and desires to thank the boys for their kind enquiries.

Hearty congratulations to both Mark Dowling and David Keating, who joined the ranks of the "benedicts" recently.

We hope to hold our Cocktail Party early in October

HANDBALL NOTES

(BY ARTHUR McCAMLEY)

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS TO COMMENCE

Entries are now being accepted for the Handball Championships all grades, A, B, and C. The notice is on the board, and those intending to compete should enter by simply signing their names together with their phone number. Entries close soon, so save yourself some disappointment by entering immediately. As soon as entries close the secretary will separate the players into their various grades and make a draw for the opening matches.

In these events, which will be under championship conditions, the preliminary rounds will be of one set only of 31 points up. Players level at 30 points must continue until one or the other has a clear lead of 2 points. Service will be taken alternately by each player for these points, with one serve at a time.

The finals will be played on the basis of the best two out of three sets of 21 points up. Any set level at 20 points must continue until one or the other gains a clear lead of 2 points, with the same conditions to apply as set out above.

It is essential that all matches be played with an official umpire, and if possible, use a new ball.

"GOOD IDEA" TROPHY

This competition continues to produce some very keen matches. The second round is now completed, and we are quickly racing towards the semi-finals and finals. To mention a few of the games in the round just completed the results are as follows:

Bob Callaghan (+18) defeated Ken Glass (+11) 41-37

Norman Rogers (+1) defeated Michael O'Dea (+12) 41-36

Charles Coppa (+32) defeated Bruce Partridge (Scr) 41-32

Ralph Davies (+6) defeated Arthur O'Connor (+18) 41-38

Robert Lipman (Scr) defeated Rod Fisher (+18) 41-29

Bill Yewdall (+12) defeated Wal Tyler (+32) 41-26

Norm Rogers (+1) defeated Ralph Davies (+6) 42-40

Easily the most exciting of these matches was that between Norm Rogers and Ralph Davies. The score alone will tell you how tense it was. Norm won by 42-40, and you cannot get any closer than that. Right from the start the pressure was on, and the scores see-sawed throughout. The rallies were long, and played at a terrific pace, and when they reached 40 all you could have heard the roar out in the street.

Luck favoured Norm for he won the next two points to give him the match. Well done, Norman, and commiserations to you, Ralph. It was a game well played.

The game between Robert Lipman and Rod Fisher is worth reporting, as it showed a return to form of our champ, Robert. He won 41-26, after conceding a long start. Rod put up a very good show, and contested each point very keenly, but he was not a match for Robert on the day. It was a very impressive win.

Bill Yewdall also had a good win when he defeated Wal Tyler by 41-26 after conceding a start of 20 points. Bill played brilliantly, and Wal was unlucky to meet him in such form.

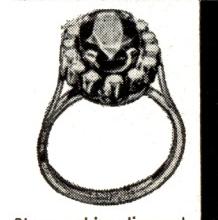

HANDBALL CLUB DINNER AND PRESENTATION OF PRIZES

It does not seem that twelve months have passed since our last function, but this is the case. Your Handball Committee is now looking for a suitable date for this night. Of course this cannot take place until the championships have been completed, but they should not take long. All I can say is that if we have as good a night this year as we have had in past years, I am looking forward to it. Keep watching these notes for further information on this event.

Congratulations to Sam Block for the magnificent job he is doing for the Swimming Club since his friend, Jack Dexter, became ill. You should be really proud of him, Jack, and when you return to us fully recovered you will find things going along just the same. Also a special mention for Jim Comans and Frank Falson who have helped Sam tremendously. Cheerio to you, Jack, and a special bow to your lovely wife, Babe. We send you both our very best wishes.

THE COMBINED CLUBS SNOOKER COMPETITION – 1969

BY BERT TONKS

That harbinger of good fellowship between the leading clubs of Sydney — the Annual Inter-Club Snooker Competition — made its 1969 debut on Thursday, 5th June, with the following clubs participating:

Imperial Services Club, Royal Automobile Club, Sydney Club, Schools Club, NSW Sports Club and Tattersall's Club.

Matches are played on a home and away basis, on alternate Thursday nights, between teams of six players. The competition climaxes with the ever popular annual dinner, at which trophies are awarded, and a very good time for all is a fore-gone conclusion.

In order to achieve this, it would be appreciated if those of our members, who are strong on Snooker and can make themselves consistently available every alternate Thursday night, would enter their names on the inter-club notice, posted on our second floor notice board, in good time before each match. It is always from this list of names that our six players are selected. So fellows, let's have a good team effort again this year.

1969 GRAND BILLIARDS AND SNOOKER TOURNAMENT

Our annual handicap tournament is now under way, and results are awaited with great interest. As a matter of fact, it is our belief that interest in the tournament is greater than ever this year, and we look forward with confidence to good attendances at the daily battles on the "green baize" in our Club Room.

BYES FOR ALL OTHER PLAYERS

Tom Powell has kindly donated the above beautiful canteen of cutlery as an additional Snooker main prize.

This year Tattersall's Club has the honour of being host club for the dinner, which will be followed by the traditional "all-in — Blitz Snooker Tournament" for all and sundry.

As last year's champions we are therefore proud holders of the magnificent Championship Shield, displayed in our second floor buffet, and we are keen to emulate last year's success by fielding our strongest possible team of six players.
